

Course Description

Course Name: Python Programming

Instructor: John Doe

Academic Year: 2024-2025

Course Description:

This course introduces you to Python programming, including its syntax, functions, and data structures. You will also learn how to work with libraries for data analysis, web development, and more. By the end of the course, you will be proficient in building Python-based applications.